IMPORTANT INFORMATION AND DISCLOSURES

ABOUT A CHARITABLE GIFT ANNUITY WITH NATIONAL CHRISTIAN FOUNDATION (NCF)

You are considering an important transaction that contains both benefits and risks. NCF is most interested that you enter into such a transaction only if you are satisfied that is the right thing for you to do and that your questions and interests have been sufficiently addressed. Therefore, in addition to answering any questions you raise and providing the other information concerning an NCF Charitable Gift Annuity, we also want you to be aware of and carefully review the following points:

National Christian Charitable Foundation, Inc. is doing business as and will be referred to in various documents as "National Christian Foundation" ("NCF"). By entering into an annuity contract with National Christian Foundation, you are agreeing that it is irrevocable and everything remaining at the end of your life (the annuity's remainder interest) will go to NCF for the Sudan Relief Single Charity Fund. Under federal tax law, the principal cannot be returned to you.

NCF is not acting as your attorney or professional advisor in this transaction or any other transaction. Nor is NCF rendering a legal or tax advisory service to you in any regard. It is very important that you understand that NCF is not acting as your attorney and that you are urged to seek your own legal and/or tax counsel in regard to review of this and any other legal transaction into which you might enter.

A gift annuity is a contract between the donor(s) and NCF. In exchange for the donor's contribution, NCF promises to make fixed payments for life to one or two annuitants [usually, but not necessarily, the donor(s)]. The amount paid is based on the age of the annuitant(s) at the time of the gift, in accordance with the NCF rate schedule. The act of establishing a gift annuity with NCF is not and should not be viewed as an investment. Rather, it is a way to receive annuity payments while making a charitable donation. In this respect, an NCF gift annuity is different from a commercial annuity. However, the fact that you are making a charitable gift may provide you with tax benefits, which may include a current federal income tax charitable deduction (if you itemize your deductions), annuity payments which may partially be tax-free, and future estate tax savings. A gift annuity that is funded by a retirement account distribution has special rules that must be followed for you to treat the distribution as a Qualified Charitable Distribution; please consult with your tax advisor.

Generally, the gift annuity rates paid by the NCF are those suggested by the American Council on Gift Annuities, which is a national organization of charities that has been in existence since 1927. These rates have been calculated so as to provide attractive payments to the donor and/or other annuitant(s) and also to result in an estimated 50 percent of the contract value remaining for the charity. Because a charitable gift is involved, the rates are lower than those available through commercial annuities offered by insurance companies and other financial institutions.

The annuity payments are a general obligation of NCF, and they are backed by all of our assets. At 12/31/2022 our total invested funds exceeded $4.380 billion, and they are primarily invested in publicly traded stocks, mutual funds, commercial and government bonds and money market funds. If NCF should ever fail financially, individuals entitled to receive annuities will qualify as general creditors of NCF. NCF was established in 1982. Responsibility for governing the organization is vested in a Board of Directors comprised of up to twelve persons who are selected for their Christian commitment, integrity, business and financial acumen. Those individuals currently are Terry Parker, Jay Bennett, Phil Drake, Katherine Barnhart, Jesse Correll, James B. McCabe, Lloyd Bentsen, Lee Torrence, Karen Hung and Kendra VanderMeulen. Common investment funds managed by our organization are exempt from registration requirements of the federal securities laws, pursuant to the exemption for collective investment funds and similar funds maintained by charitable organizations under the Philanthropy Protection Act of 1995 (P.L. 104-62). Information in this disclosure is provided to you in accordance with the requirements of that Act. Additional financial information, including our most recent audited financial statement is available upon request.

The right to annuity payments may not be assigned to any person or organization, other than NCF. However, any gift annuity designed to be funded by a Qualified Charitable Distribution from a retirement account must not be assignable whatsoever, not even to NCF. The gift date is the date when you actually transfer assets. In the case of cash, it is the date you mail or deliver a check. In the case of an electronic transfer of securities, it is the date they were received into the account of NCF. If you have certificates, it is the date they are properly endorsed and mailed or delivered.

The CGA for the Sudan Relief Single Charity Fund, if accepted by NCF, will be performed by National Christian Charitable Foundation, Inc. in Georgia. The gift annuity is governed by the laws of the State in which you reside at the time the gift annuity agreement is signed. You affirm that the donor(s) whose name(s) appear(s) on the Application is/are the sole owner(s) of the property, and the property is not subject to any debt or claim, and that the date(s) of birth on the application are true and accurate.

NCF may, at its discretion and on a case-by-case basis, choose to purchase a commercial annuity to back some or all of the liability created by a charitable gift annuity. This is simply a prudent risk management strategy to further protect your future payments and our unrestricted assets. Should we decide to purchase an annuity, this in no way changes our contractual obligation to you for annuity payments. Should you have any questions or concerns, feel free to contact us.

NCF is not responsible for any written or oral educational information you may or may not have received from any charity regarding charitable gift annuities. Our agreement is contained in the contract with attached schedules. You will be mailed a signed copy of the contract. Please do not hesitate to speak with us concerning the above or any other items concerning National Christian Foundation and the Sudan Relief Single Charity Fund. We count it a privilege to serve you.
